
OBITUARY

Professor William Morton Wheeler, for many years an active member of the Cambridge Entomological Club and its most distinguished member, died suddenly on April 19th. The forthcoming issue will contain an account of Professor Wheeler's biological career and a list of his many and highly important entomological publications.
